ROLE OF WOMEN AND WOMEN'S ORGANISATION

24 PROSPEROUS REGION BUT ADVERSE SEX RATIO. TRIBAL PEOPLE HAVE HEALTHY SEX RATIO THAN NON-TRIBAL PEOPLE. EXPLAIN BOTH.

Intro:

Child sex ratio has come down to 919(2011) from 927(2001).

Body:

Factors affecting sex ratio in India:

Life expectancy, sex ratio at birth, migration, son meta preference etc. female foeticide, dowry, violence against women.

Sex ratio -adverse -prosperous regions

Punjab, Haryana, Gujarat etc. -worst sex ratio at birth-patriarchal society, ownership of property and carrying family lineage - lower urban sex ratio than rural due to migration, prejudice towards girl child –

Son meta preference in these states are over 65% while the national average is around 50%.

Misuse of technology – female foeticide/infanticide, lack of ethics in doctors, administrative apathy towards abuse of laws

Sex ratio -tribals

Sex ratio of 990 among tribes -lower literacy rates.

Reasons:

cultural gender parity as well as lack of access to pre-natal diagnostic technology, no social bias against women in tribal communities as opposed to non-tribals, money is paid to the girl's family at the time of marriage, lack of rigid patriarchal family templates, better status of women – financially and socially.

Way forward:

Behavioural nudge and schemes like Beti Bachao Beti Padhao, Sukanya Samriddhi Account, Pre-Natal Diagnostic Techniques (Regulation and Prevention of Misuse) Act 1994, gender budgeting.

25	WOMEN ISSUES IN 19TH CENTURY AND CONTEMPORARY ISSUES OF WOMEN IN PRESENT TIME.
	Intro: Different in nature but may have a common root – Patriarchy, Misogynism. Comparison: 19th century: Evil practices like Sati, Purdah system, child marriage, female infanticide, dowry, bride pricing, polygamy, Devadasi system, social ban on widow remarriage, violence, etc. existed. Reasons for these practices: Lack of property rights for women, no education/skill dev, lack of political rights, financial dependence, poor sanitary and health conditions, colonial governments upholding rigid and patriarchal Hindu and Islamic personal laws. Problems at present: Violence against women, selective abortion, dowry, disparity in employment (gender wage gap, falling LFPR, glass ceiling), education (literacy rate gap), political status (only 14% in Lok Sabha, sarpanch pati), sexual harassment, feminisation of the elderly population(by 2050), marital rape, feminisation of agriculture, etc. Problems are occurring in new dimensions like sexual harassment at workplace, household inequality where only women do chores even if they too work, objectification in media, gender role stereotyping ('pink collar' jobs), etc. Conclusion: Such changing dimensions of women issues are reinforced by the patriarchal structure in a society.
